

CONVENES COURT TO RULE ON QUEER MURDER TANGLE

Justice Kapper Wants to Be Sustained in Sending to Illinois for Trial.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Brooklyn, which is in recess, was especially reconvened this afternoon at the request of Justice Kapper, of the Supreme Court, to hear an appeal from a decision which he handed down earlier in the day in the case of Vito Gemma, a workman for a firm of contractors, for whom the police of Collingville, Ill., have obtained extradition papers. It is the first time in the history of the Appellate Division that such a thing has happened.

Gemma's case is a puzzling one. He is under indictment in Illinois, charged with the murder, on Oct. 15, 1910, of John Labianca. The Collingville police say both men were working in a mine. Gemma, who lives with his wife and six-month-old baby at No. 24 North Fifth street, Brooklyn, protested at a hearing before Chief Magistrate Kemper that he was never in Illinois in his life, that he has been employed for several years by Corrigan & Gorman, contractors, produced the firm's time book to show that he drew pay for working on the day the murder is said to have been committed, and brought witnesses who swore that he was in Brooklyn that very day.

Magistrate Kemper adjourned that hearing and at a second one the foreman of the Illinois jury and other witnesses from Collingville identified Gemma as the man who had committed the murder. The Magistrate held Gemma for extradition, and his lawyer, Hector McG. Cullen, obtained a writ of habeas corpus.

"I am convinced," said Justice Kapper to-day after he had heard all the evidence and had quoted from numerous opinions in similar cases, "that Gemma was not in Illinois when the crime is said to have been committed, and that we are in the presence of a case where the proof of the alibi is complete and satisfactory."

But he added that the question of the alibi by the defense is one to be decided by the court and the jury in the place where the alleged offense was committed, and he dismissed the writ and remanded the prisoner.

This meant that Gemma would have to go back to Illinois, but Justice Kapper was desirous of having a precedent established and requested the Appellate Division to reconvene and hear the appeal.

TRAIN HELD AS BROKER PUNCHES A CHAUFFEUR.

Passengers Cheer and Conductor
Forgets to Call "All Aboard!"

Until Bout is Over.

William H. Wallace, sometimes called "the youngest member of the Stock Exchange," was busy to-day receiving congratulations from Wall street friends who had just heard how he had thrashed a chauffeur Monday just before he got aboard a train at Rye to come to the city.

Wallace's automobile had arrived from Milton Point, where he lives, just a few minutes before train time, and the chauffeur, who collided with Wallace's fists a few minutes later, obstructed the way to the station with his car. When Wallace asked him to get out of the way, he is said to have replied with epithets. Then, as the broker stepped out of his car he struck at Wallace's head. Wallace came back quickly and the chauffeur fell.

As the men fought the passengers cheered, and the train conductor forgot to call "All Aboard!" until the train was four minutes late. When Wallace finally jumped aboard the chauffeur had to be led away. He couldn't see out of either eye.

BEAUTY SPECIALISTS PRAISE THIS SHAMPOO

"The best hair specialists no longer recommend soap for shampooing," writes Mae Martin in the Denver Call. "The alkali in soap has been found to have a ruinous effect on the hair by destroying the lustre and color, causing dull, lifeless, streaky hair with bleached, split ends."

"In place of soap and prepared shampoos, experts on hair culture almost invariably recommend a very simple, inexpensive shampoo that is prepared by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. The abundant lather of this shampoo cleanses perfectly, removes all dust and dandruff, rinses easily and makes the hair dry very quickly."

"Canthrox destroys dandruff, stops itching of the scalp and leaves the hair lustrous, soft and very fluffy." Advt

We place these hats—the entire sample collection—on sale tomorrow, and give the whole Main Aisle to the proper display of this splendid "plum."

Most Important June Sale of Blouses $40,000 Worth of Finely Made Blouses in Scores of Styles

$1, regularly $1.50 and $2 $3.95, regularly $5 and $6
$1.50, regularly $2.50 and $3 $4.75, regularly $6.95
$2, regularly $3.50 to $4 $5.75, regularly $7.50 and $8.75
$3, regularly $4.75 to $5.50 $6.75, regularly $10.75 and $12.75

Since its advent last September the Gimbel Store has become famous particularly for its large collection of Blouses and its extraordinary Blouse Sales. But without a doubt this will be our sale of sales. We have never attempted anything like it before, and we are quite sure that its equal has never been held in New York.

Yes, it is a belated June Sale. Originally we had planned it for the first of June. We were not fully prepared then, and rather than present a sale in a half-hearted way we postponed it until tomorrow.

Several months ago several of the best blouse makers promised us their entire end-of-season overlots of materials, laces and embroideries—such as they had been making up in our blouses all season. Then we gave them our own models after which to fashion these blouses. This practically makes the value of these blouses twofold.

But there is another part to this Sale—and a very important one. We have taken hundreds of blouses from our stock—some of them have only been here a little while, and none of them has been here very long—and lessened the prices to meet those at which we are able to sell the blouses especially made for this Sale.

Every conceivable style of Blouse is included in this event—with high or low neck, long or short sleeves in kimono and regulation styles. No matter how the styles may differ, each is a typical Lingerie Blouse of daintiness and charm—fine white French batistes, Persian lawns, French voiles and marquisettes and English eyelid embroideries; trimmed with fine Valenciennes lace, thread laces, of remarkable beauty, and many with real laces including Irish. Hand-embroidery dominates—either in all-white or colors. All sizes from 34 to 44.

The workmanship of every Blouse is as neat as you would make it yourself.
The Sale will be held in the regular Blouse Shop and the adjoining sections on the Third Floor—as we wish to have the Sale assembled in one place, so that everyone may choose from the entire collection.

N. B.—These Blouses will only be sold on the Third Floor—None on Main Floor.
